Dedication to Charlie Johnston

Thoughts by some of our lion members about Charlie and his time with us.

Don was just glad to know him.

Buell was his neighbor for 30 years and it was said that Charlie was born before people knew about being politically correct. This followed some stories that he told us. He also remembered a statement that was made that they broke the mold and then slapped the mold maker after he was born. Buell was able to share some very enlightening stories of some funny experiences with him and many other members

Dick remembered that Charlie was the only President that had a beer line in the budget.

Darcy told a story about how he drove the politicians in the Apple Blossom parade and so she had him drive Maria Cantwell in 1995 and after that parade he told her that he would never drive politicians again and that from now on he only wanted to drive hot girls.

Mary talked about the time he jumped out of the cake throwing fake tomatoes.

Other comments by many members was that he was always ready for fun.
